Private Sector Investors

The Economic Development Council of Colorado (EDCC) is a professional membership organization dedicated to strengthening Colorado's economy. By unifying organizations involved in economic development and the private sector in a balanced effective partnership, EDCC provides unique statewide opportunities and benefits.

Our private sector members have direct access to economic development professionals across Colorado. Members play an active role in the formulation of state policy that sustains a healthy business climate and have access to tools, resources, EDCC's professional vendors and other many opportunities to engage.

Public Policy

EDCC has an active lobbying presence at the Capitol to promote and advocate for sensible business legislation and policy. EDCC provides the private sector a voice in local, regional and national issues related to business policy and economic development.

- * Weekly updates on what is happening at the Capitol
- * State legislator interaction at our annual legislative luncheon
- * Actively shape legislation and policy with EDCC's Public Policy Committee and lobbying firm

Access

EDCC provides the private sector direct access to economic development professionals across the state to facilitate relationships and access to a network of professionals who are the institutional backbone to local real estate and business development policy and involved with entitlement and development incentives.

- * Regional and statewide conferences
- * Member directory of individuals, organizations and vendors devoted to improving Colorado's economy
- * Opportunity to serve on EDCC's Board of Directors and Committees

Business Climate

Members play an active role in the Governor's Office of Economic Development & International Trade (OEDIT) in the formulation of state policy and programming to support a robust business climate. Private sector involvement supports building a well-educated and nimble economic development community throughout Colorado to help advance the state's economic priorities.

Additional Benefits

- * Share industry knowledge with our members to demonstrate the value of your business or organization
- * Advocacy and marketing of company goals and programs that directly impact the economic development community
- * Advocate on behalf of your industry and collaborate with like-minded professionals
- * Connect with our extensive list of statewide partners who we actively work with on programs and policies that shape our successful business climate
