

GALLAGHER EDUCATION MONTH

Downtown Colorado Inc. (DCI) and the Economic Development Council of Colorado (EDCC) have teamed up once again to establish and present educational content to build awareness and informed action on the Gallagher Amendment in advance of the November election as the Colorado Gallagher Amendment Repeal and Property Tax Assessment Rates Measure has made it to November's ballot.

Join us in promoting a series of presentations and dialogue to educate, build awareness, and spur informed action by Colorado citizens this November.

How has the Gallagher Amendment affected Rural Colorado?

Join us for a panel discussion with Dee Wiser, Butler Snow, Reeves Brown, Building a Better Colorado, Sen. Chris Hansen, Sen. Jack Tate, Sen. Matt Soper, moderated by Sarah Mercer, Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, who will discuss the unintended consequences of the statewide amendment which has adversely impacted Colorado's rural communities.

SEPTEMBER 16 | 10:00AM

EDCC's Virtual Series: Why Should I Care About Gallagher?

While the Gallagher Amendment was intended to address specific challenges, at a specific time when it was proposed and passed in 1982, changes in real estate market conditions over time and the voters' adoption of subsequent constitutional amendments which retroactively affect the Gallagher Amendment, have created unforeseen and unintended consequences that are causing significant challenges for Colorado today. Join us for a conversation with some of Colorado's top fiscal policy experts who will address these challenges and possible ways to amend them.

SEPTEMBER 22 | 4:00PM

Future of Taxes + Fiscal Health, Part of DCI's Big Talks Series with Speaker Joe Minicozzi

Take a deep dive into city economics, community growth, and urban design as Joe demonstrates how communities can utilize local data and simple math to gain a powerful understanding of their fiscal health, and plan for a healthy economic future.
